

APPENDIX 4

Institutional Membership

Institutional Members of the EADD may be Public or Private Legal Persons who wish to support and cooperate with EADD, approved by the Executive Council.

How to become a General Institutional Member

01. Participate and support directly or indirectly the European Academy of Digital Dentistry and have direct or indirect presence and support in three (3) consecutive Spring and/or Autumn Meetings.

02. How to apply for EADD Institutional Member status?
After having completed the requirements, fill an application form and forward it to the Secretary General, along with a letter of motivation framing and justifying the application.

Requirements

The application must be sponsored by either: one (1) Founding Father and one (1) Member of the Executive Council (distinct members); two (2) Founders or Co-Founders and one (1) Member of the Executive Council (distinct members); three (3) Active, Life or Career Members and two (2) Members of the Executive Council (distinct members). At least one of the sponsors must be from a country other than the applicant's own.

03. After evaluation of the application, the Executive Council will issue a written pronouncement.

04. Differed applicants will become Interim Institutional Members.
Interim Institutional Membership shall consist of a one (1) year period in which the Interim Member shall be evaluated and its performance and importance to the EADD will be assessed.

05. If deemed worthy, the Interim Institutional Member shall receive a letter of recommendation from the Executive Council which shall also recommend the inclusion as a Full Institutional Member in the following General Assembly.

06. The General Assembly shall decide by a simple majority affirmative vote, by secret conventional or electronic ballot, to ratify the Executive Council proposal and the candidate should be informed in written format (conventional or electronic mail) of the decision.

07. Institutional Membership status shall be evaluated biennially by the Executive Council who reserves all the rights to terminate the Membership whenever deems appropriate.